

ANIMAL CARE TECHNICIAN - RESEARCH FACILITY

This position is responsible for providing animal care and husbandry. The Animal Care Technician in the animal facility has a basic understanding of the principles involved in providing animal care and husbandry and a proven ability to work well in a team setting. This position is a member of an animal care team led by the Manager, In Vivo Laboratory. This position reports directly to the Manager, In Vivo Laboratory who will have direct management responsibility to include day-to-day task direction and assurance of the quality of work completed. The position handles and works with laboratory animals and the equipment, supplies, and materials required to provide for humane conditions. Candidates must have the ability to lift, pull, and/or push heavy objects (sometimes in excess of 50 lbs).

Interested candidates may apply via the careers page on the Southern Research website at <https://southernresearch.org/careers/available-positions/>.