

69 South Veterinary Clinic

69 South Veterinary Clinic is a dog and cat clinic located in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. We are a single-doctor practice that tends to stay pretty busy. Our staff currently consists of a licensed technician and 3 vet assistant/kennel attendants. We are looking for an energetic, friendly, and highly motivated part to full-time veterinary technician to join our team-oriented practice in order to replace one of our vet assistants who is leaving town for college. Licensing is a plus but not required. A bare minimum of 1 year clinical experience is required. Applicants must possess exceptional communication skills, be highly motivated, compassionate, dependable, and dedicated to our mission of providing excellent patient care and customer service.

Responsibilities include, but are not limited to: – client communication and education – exam room & hospitalized patient care – ability to restrain variety of cats and dogs, including lifting up to 50 lbs alone or team lift larger pets – dentistry– surgical anesthesia, monitoring, and assisting – digital radiography – obtaining diagnostic samples and perform appropriate testing or submission. Experience with older IntraVet practice management, Heska blood analyzer and IDEXX diagnostic equipment would be helpful, but is not required. If the applicant does not have experience with these items, they must possess the ability to learn and remember how to use them. Weekend kennel duties would be required every third weekend and the kennel staff organizes holiday shifts. We don't typically board great numbers of pets except for around holidays. Weekend and holiday shifts are AM and PM and pay is 1.5x normal hourly rate. Normal hourly pay rate would be based on experience, but will start at $12/hour.

For more information, please contact Beth at 69 South Veterinary Clinic for an application or come by and fill one out. A resume and at least 3 work-related references are required.
