Child Development Program

Welcome to the Early Care and Education Field!

The Jefferson State Child Development Associate Degree program (CDP) is the first accredited program in Alabama under The National Association of the Education of Young Children (NAEYC). For over 45 years, JSCC CDP continues to be on the cutting edge providing an online program with live classrooms offered in present time and recorded to accommodate every student. Current and prospective students are able to complete their education and career goals with flexibility and ongoing support through various forms of technology while also receiving education that aligns with the NAEYC standards and Alabama Quality Rating and Improvement System (QRIS). Consider JSCC CDP for your education and career goals in the field that is the foundation for every child.
